

Duncan Park Holdings Corporation Commences Drilling and Additional Field Work at its Rock Creek Claims, Lander and Eureka Counties, Nevada

Aug 10, 2006 – News Release

Duncan Park Holdings Corporation ("Duncan Park")(TSX VENTURE: DPH) is pleased to announce that it has started an exploration drill program on its Rock Creek Project.

Duncan Park is planning a four diamond bit core drill hole program in the initial phase of drilling, totaling a minimum 8,000 feet of coring. Additional core drill holes are planned later this year to further delineate the known volcanic-hosted, low sulfidation epithermal vein system.

The Rock Creek Project is located in northern Nevada, thirty miles east-northeast of Battle Mountain, Nevada. The property is located along the Northern Nevada Rift (NNR), a major geologic feature that hosts high-grade, vein gold properties like Midas, Ivanhoe and Silver Cloud. The property has had shallow, intermittent exploration in the past. None of the earlier drilling tested deeper levels for high-grade mineralization associated with boiling zones during vein formation.

Data from a 1993 Gradient Array survey, conducted by Practical Geophysics, was recently acquired. Gradient array is a geophysical technique useful for locating and defining veins associated with the NNR. The data covers much of the Rock Creek Project area and is interpreted to show both known and previously unknown veins on the property. A new Gradient Array/self potential survey is being conducted by Practical Geophysics to completely cover the remainder of the Rock Creek project.
